Recovery Services

Our recovery services are guided by our values and informed by our Community Recovery Model. This approach to Recovery means we work at 3 levels, with the individual, with their families and friends and with the community. Wellways' Community Recovery Model recognises that developing skills, building confidence and strengthening relationships will help people to recover and to live independently. The model provides an evidence based approach to create individually tailored, effective recovery support packages. Wellways assists individuals to develop the capacity to manage their own wellbeing, equip family and friends with information and skills, and engage community members in support networks.

Advocacy Services

We have a strong advocacy program, informed by the lived experience of people with a mental illness, their families and friends. Members of Wellways play a vital role in developing our advocacy platform. We advocate for systemic change that will create better conditions and improved opportunities for people with a mental illness and their families.

All our recovery services and advocacy programs:

- Support and create opportunities for recovery
- Value cultural diversity
- Value peer participation and leadership (consumer and carer)
- Are underpinned by evidence-based best practice

Position Summary

Wellways has a number of programs providing services within the Southern New South Wales region consisting Mental Health Rehabilitation & Recovery Services, Suicide Prevention and Postvention Grass Roots in mental health and a range of Peer Facilitated Education Programs.

The Housing and Accommodation Support Initiative is designed to work with participants to address key areas that support people who have mental health issues so they can maintain successful tenancies and participate in their communities. This support often results in improvements in their quality of life and, most importantly, assists in their recovery from mental illness. A key outcome will be supporting the participant to identify and nurture natural supports that sustain recovery and assist in the development of self-management skills.

Using Wellways' Community Recovery Model, the Recovery and Rehabilitation Worker will provide intensive support to people with a mental illness through the Housing and Accommodation Support Initiative.

The goals of the program are to:

- Assist participants in developing and sustaining social connections and strengthening family relationships
- Provide participants with support with living skills to improve quality of life at the agreed level of participation based on individual needs
- Increase overall quality of life, physical health and wellbeing for participants
- Encourage and promote social inclusion, including increasing participant access to obtain meaningful employment and/or participate in education or training
- Assist participants with housing outcomes including maintaining home environment and rectifying any property maintenance needs
- Work cooperatively and collaboratively with team members as well as other support services to ensure participants are receiving the support and assistance they require to achieve individual goals and plans.

Work will be guided by Wellways' evidence based Practice Frameworks:

- Intentional Peer Support
- Supported Education
- Individual Placement and Support (Employment)
- Family Education
- CALD Recovery Principles
- Working with people from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander backgrounds
- Working with GLBTIQ people

Our Practice Frameworks identify a range of tools and processes to assist participants to develop the confidence and capacity to manage their own wellbeing; equip family and friends with information and skills; and engage community members as mentors and supports.

Under the support and direction of the Coordinator Recovery & Rehabilitation Services, this role works with the team and other key internal and external stakeholders in the ongoing development and effective implementation of program plans.
